

WILLCOX TO HEAD
HUGHES CAMPAIGN

Nominee's Choice of Manager Little Known Outside of New York.

COLONEL SATISFIED WITH APPOINTMENT

Ex-P. S. C. Chairman to Devote His Entire Time to Working "for His Old Friend."

William R. Willcox, who as a boy worked on his father's farm in Chicago, was appointed chairman of the Republican National Committee yesterday.

The man who will manage the campaign of Charles E. Hughes is not known to politicians outside of New York State. Mr. Hughes chose Mr. Willcox because his selection would not awaken any old antagonisms.

Mr. Willcox is agreeable to Colonel Roosevelt, who named him Postmaster of New York City in 1904. And when Mr. Willcox resigned, three years later, after effecting many reforms in the service, he received a warm letter of praise from the Colonel.

While there were many candidates for the place, there was no real fight, the sub-committee, of which W. Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, is chairman, making the appointment after a conference with Mr. Hughes yesterday.

Glad to Aid Friend.

When Mr. Willcox, who was appointed by Governor Hughes in 1907 to head the original Public Service Commission of this district, learned of the new honor, he said:

"I am glad to work for my old friend. The next five months I will devote entirely to his service. Just where headquarters will be established I do not yet know. For the next couple of days, until we get settled and organized, I will have headquarters at the Hotel Astor, adjoining those of Mr. Hughes."

Burner at the Hotel Astor was that Mr. Willcox would be the next Postmaster General, a post held by Frank B. Hitchcock, who managed the 1904 Taft campaign, and the most conspicuous candidate for the job awarded yesterday to Mr. Willcox.

The assistant campaign managers are likely to be Ralph E. Williams, of Oregon, in charge of the Pacific Slope, and Charles B. Warren, of Michigan, to manage the Chicago headquarters. Charles G. Dawes, former Controller of the currency and president of the Illinois Trust Company, and George R. Sheldon, the present incumbent, are being considered for national treasurer.

Boomed Hughes at Chicago.

Mr. Willcox took a prominent part in managing the Hughes boom at Chicago, conducting the fight from headquarters in the Blackstone Hotel.

The new national chairman looks little more than forty. Few of his friends know that when he came to New York City, scarcely more than a boy, he started a club to reform boys from the street near where he lived, Forty-sixth Street and Lexington Avenue, a philanthropy he supported out of his own meagre earnings and what he could beg from wealthy parishioners of the Dutch Reformed Church, which he attended.

In 1904 he married Martha J. Havemeyer, of this city, daughter of William F. Havemeyer.

HIRAM JOHNSON
OUT FOR HUGHES

And Prohibitionists Invite All Moose to Join Them.

Sacramento, Cal., June 27.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson, one of the leaders of the Progressive party, announced today that he would support Charles E. Hughes for the Presidency "because I believe his record warrants it."

Chicago, June 27.—In an open letter to Progressives given out to-night by Virgil G. Hinshaw, national chairman of the Prohibition party, is this invitation to join the Prohibitionists:

"In view of the fact that the Progressive party through the action of your national committee will have no national ticket this year, thus presenting to the voters of the party the alternative of returning to the Republican and Democratic parties from which you came or joining forces with another third party with whose principles you may agree, we therefore extend to all forward looking men and women of the Progressive party an invitation to join with the Prohibitionists and other reform forces of the country in a get-together conference on July 13 in St. Paul, Minn., with a view to finding a common political ground on which to fight for the welfare of humanity and to have a part in the nomination of a national ticket that shall represent all progressive citizens, and that cannot be barred away for selfish ends by any individual."

PLAN BUSINESS LEAGUE TO SUPPORT HUGHES

Editor of "Seven Seas" Says No Politicians Are Wanted.

A good many inquiries have been made recently as to the identity of the "National Business Men's Republican League," which has been sending out letters to business men in this and other cities soliciting their membership and contributions. The league has an office at 25 West Forty-fifth Street, which is in charge of Scott Dabo, editor of "The Seven Seas Magazine," as secretary. Bond Thomas, secretary of the New York Realty Owners' Association, is assistant secretary.

It was explained yesterday that the league is not yet permanently organized, as its promoters had been awaiting the clearing up of the Republican-Progressive atmosphere. A lot of prominent business men have already sent in their names for membership, it was said, and a permanent campaign committee will soon be announced. The object of the organization will be to make an appeal for the votes of business men for Mr. Hughes along purely business lines—that is, by discussing the industrial issues in the campaign. No politicians are said to be wanted in the league.

DEATH OF BROOKLYN
MAN PUZZLES POLICE

Salesman Found in Street with Skull Fractured.

Alfred P. Sperry, a salesman, whose home is at 66 Orange Street, Brooklyn, was found early yesterday morning lying unconscious, before 213 Adams Street, Brooklyn.

He died at the Brooklyn Hospital last night from a fractured skull. He was identified by the initials A. P. S. in a straw hat.

Brooklyn police as yet have discovered no clue as to what he was doing in Adams Street or how he met his death.

HUGHES AND HIS CAMPAIGN MANAGER.

© International Film Service.

Republican candidate and William R. Willcox, former Public Service Commissioner, who will direct the fight in the ex-justices' behalf.

WILSON'S CAMPAIGN
FOR RE-ELECTION OPENS

McCormick Takes Charge of Headquarters Here.

Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, formally opened the campaign to reelect Wilson and Marshall yesterday, by taking charge of Democratic headquarters in the Forty-second Street building. During the campaign, Mr. McCormick will live at the Biltmore.

During the day the chairman held conferences with Henry Morgenthau, chairman of the finance committee, and Wilbur W. Marsh, treasurer. He also conferred with Vice-chairman Homer S. Cummings, who, Mr. McCormick said, would have charge of the speakers' bureau. Mr. Cummings had this job four years ago.

When and where President Wilson will be formally notified of his renomination has not been decided. Mr. McCormick said that the ceremony probably would take place at Shadow Lawn, Long Branch, N. J., some time in July. The chairman expects to go to Washington to-night to confer with the President.

While in Washington it is expected the committee that is to help Mr. McCormick in the campaign will be appointed. This committee probably will consist of eleven men, one of whom may be a Progressive. Western headquarters will be opened in Chicago.

First Country Visit for 30 Boys.

Thirty boys, who never before have passed any time in the country, will be taken next week to Camp Greenkill, on Lake First Binnewater, in the Catskills, for a three weeks' stay. Wilfred C. Ackery, physical director of the West Side Y. M. C. A., 31 West Fifty-seventh Street, will be in charge of the camp.

WOMAN'S T. R. LEAGUE
WILL UPHOLD HUGHES

Faithful Band Loudly Cheers Deceased Leader.

A melancholy and faithful band, the Woman's Roosevelt League, met yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Manhattan, and voted to uphold the Republican candidate through the campaign. They "came to bury Caesar, not to praise him," but it was impossible to check their outbursts of enthusiasm for their deceased leader.

Miss Alice Carpenter, president, said that at Chicago, she would willingly have died if it would have helped the Colonel's nomination. Another woman started to enumerate the virtues of Mr. Hughes, and ended by a bitter attack on the "bosses" who had defeated the man whom, she declared, all the country wanted.

Miss Helen C. Boswell, chairman of the woman's section of the Republican party, and Miss Francis A. Kellor, secretary of the Woman's League for Hughes, were present and addressed the meeting. The league will have permanent headquarters on Broadway, and will hold daily meetings, working in cooperation with the other women's political organizations.

Telephone Overcharge Alleged.

Alleging overcharges for local calls, Mark H. Ellison, attorney, of 132 Nassau Street, yesterday appeared before the Public Service Commission of the Second District to press complaint against the New York Telephone Company. Since no refund is made on calls of less than three minutes, the attorney claims no charge should be made for calls of longer duration. Decision was reserved.

HUGHES AND T. R.
TO MEET TO-NIGHT

Colonel Accepts Invitation to Discuss Issues at Dinner.

NOMINEE EXPECTED TO BE PEACEMAKER

Settlement of Roosevelt-Taft Differences Thought Likely by Candidate's Friends.

Colonel Roosevelt will dine to-night with Charles E. Hughes. When the two get up from the table an announcement that the first big meeting of the campaign would have as speakers the Colonel, Mr. Hughes, and William Howard Taft, would not surprise some of those who have been watching the events of the last few days.

The talk about the Hughes headquarters at the Hotel Astor yesterday was that the dinner would end the unfriendliness that has existed between Colonel Roosevelt and Mr. Taft since the Chicago convention of 1912. That Mr. Hughes would play the role of peacemaker was the belief of his close friends.

The dinner will take place in Mr. Hughes's apartment, at the Astor. The invitation was extended to the Colonel Monday. Mr. Hughes sent it by special messenger to Oyster Bay, together with his letter of thanks to the Colonel for his endorsement.

First Meeting Since 1910.

The invitation left the naming of the date to the Colonel. He replied yesterday morning, fixing to-night at 7:30 as the time. This upset Mr. Hughes's plans somewhat, as he intended returning to Bridgehampton yesterday afternoon. But he hopes to get back to the peace and quiet of the little Long Island village to-morrow. Mr. Hughes has not seen Colonel Roosevelt since 1910, just before he left for Washington to take up his judicial duties.

The plans for the campaign will be talked over at the dinner to-night, and with the Colonel and Mr. Hughes working out its details, an aggressive fight which will put President Wilson on the defensive can be expected.

That the Colonel would take a prominent part in the campaign, not only speaking on behalf of Mr. Hughes, but aiding in the strategy of the battle, was indicated yesterday by William B. Willcox, the new national chairman.

When Mr. Hughes returns to Bridgehampton he will begin working on addresses, and will probably finish his speech of acceptance some time next week.

Among Mr. Hughes's callers yesterday were William Berri, of Brooklyn; George W. Wickham, former United States Attorney General; Dr. Albert Warren Ferris, president of the State Lunacy Commission under Governor Hughes, and William H. Hotchkiss, who served under him as State Superintendent of Insurance.

NIAGARA FALLS AND RETURN, $11.40

Good going June 30 to July 3, inc. Returning to July 5, inc.

Trunk call—Broadway
Cor Wall St. Cor 28th St.
Cor Park Pl. Cor 42d St.
Groupings—555 Fulton St.

Lackawanna Railroad

SAYS WILSON HAS EXALTED NATION

Swann Lauds His Patience—Democratic Club Indorses Nomination.

PRESIDENT'S WORK FOR DEFENCE TOLD

"Handled Crisis in Spirit of 1860 and Let Others Fire First Shot," Reads Resolution.

"President Wilson has refused to seek cheap notoriety by rushing into Mexico," said District Attorney Swann, in the course of remarks prefacing the unanimous passage of a resolution he drew up endorsing the nomination of President Wilson and Vice-President Marshall, at a meeting of the National Democratic Club, 617 Fifth Avenue, last night.

"One of the President's most remarkable traits is his patience," said Mr. Swann. "He has followed the example of 1860 in regard to Mexico, and, emulating the patience of Abraham Lincoln, has demanded that the other side fire the first shot."

"Sought Pure Americanism."

John M. Riehl, president of the club, presided, and explained that it was customary for the club to go on record after a Presidential convention. Tammany Hall was well represented at the meeting.

"Future historians will say," said Mr. Swann, "that Washington made the nation, Lincoln saved it, but Wilson made it greater—because he insisted that it serve the cause not only of its own people, but of humanity as well."

"The Administration has insisted upon a pure Americanism. It has kept the country neutral in the great war in Europe, and has so far kept itself out of war with any nation under circumstances that have been singularly trying and desperate."

"Has Prepared Land's Defence."

The resolution adopted said in part: "The Democratic party has had to take up the burden of efficiently preparing the country for national defence. After years of Republican indifference and neglect it has had to solve the vexatious problem inherited from the Taft administration. Strong measures for defence have been enacted, and the long pending but inevitable Mexican crisis is being met with resolution, proper regard for American rights, and compassion for the unfortunate condition of a bandit-ridden and distracted people of a neighboring country."

"Through all these problems the higher character, the fine ideals and the commanding intellectual ability of President Woodrow Wilson have stood forth in such manner as to win the earnest admiration of his countrymen."

Meter Readers Uniformed.
Columbus, Ohio, users of electric light can now breathe a sigh of relief, for by a recent innovation by the Columbus Railway, Power and Light Company, says "The Electrical World," fake electric light meter readers have no longer easy access to homes.

The eleven men employed by the company to read the electric meters of its 25,000 customers are now arrayed in a distinctive military uniform.

The advantages of this uniform are threefold: First, it provides an easy means of identification, and prevents the intrusion of impostors on the pretext of reading meters; second, the men, who enter so many homes each day, are enabled to always present a neat and dignified appearance; third, it is a bit of advertising for the company to have its representatives in this line of work always wear a distinctive uniform of good appearance.

$3,000,000 in Redmont Estate.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 27.—The will of Estelle Livingston Redmont, descendant of Chancellor Livingston and wife of Geraldine Redmont, of New York, was filed here to-day. Legacies from the estate between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 are $75,000 for the three sons of the testatrix, $5,000 to the Association of Catholic Charities, $5,000 to the Little Sisters of the Assumption and other charities.

STATE ATTACKS
ORPET'S DEFENCE

Will Call Prisoner's Story of Tragedy in Woods a Fiction.

[By Telegram to The Tribune.]

Waukegan, Ill., June 27.—Prosecutor David R. Joslyn will attack the defence of Will H. Orpet to-morrow on four points set up by the prisoner in his story of Marion Lambert's death. Those are the powdered cyanide which Orpet said he saw on the girl's face and hands, the convulsions he said shook the girl in dying, the "brain storm" which he declared overcame him as he watched her die, and the bottle of molasses and water, fake medicine, which he said he tried to persuade her to drink.

The state believes Orpet's story of the tragedy is a carefully woven tissue of falsehoods. It will attempt to prove that the bottle of molasses and water found in Helms Woods by scouts sent out by Orpet's lawyers was "planted." It will try to convince the jury that the Orpet story of seeing powder on the girl's face and hands and the three convulsions were invented by Orpet to meet the evidence introduced by the prosecution.

As for the "brainstorm," the prosecution will contend that it was a ploy to blindfold the jury, but lift sufficiently to enable him to remember exactly where he threw the bottle and to draw a map enabling Leslie P. Hanna and his assistants to locate it.

Orpet, who elected to tell his own story on the stand, in refutation of the charge of murdering Marion Lambert, completed a session of cross-examination to-day which left him pale and nervous.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

STATE ATTACKS
ORPET'S DEFENCE

Will Call Prisoner's Story of Tragedy in Woods a Fiction.

[By Telegram to The Tribune.]

Waukegan, Ill., June 27.—Prosecutor David R. Joslyn will attack the defence of Will H. Orpet to-morrow on four points set up by the prisoner in his story of Marion Lambert's death. Those are the powdered cyanide which Orpet said he saw on the girl's face and hands, the convulsions he said shook the girl in dying, the "brain storm" which he declared overcame him as he watched her die, and the bottle of molasses and water, fake medicine, which he said he tried to persuade her to drink.

The state believes Orpet's story of the tragedy is a carefully woven tissue of falsehoods. It will attempt to prove that the bottle of molasses and water found in Helms Woods by scouts sent out by Orpet's lawyers was "planted." It will try to convince the jury that the Orpet story of seeing powder on the girl's face and hands and the three convulsions were invented by Orpet to meet the evidence introduced by the prosecution.

As for the "brainstorm," the prosecution will contend that it was a ploy to blindfold the jury, but lift sufficiently to enable him to remember exactly where he threw the bottle and to draw a map enabling Leslie P. Hanna and his assistants to locate it.

Orpet, who elected to tell his own story on the stand, in refutation of the charge of murdering Marion Lambert, completed a session of cross-examination to-day which left him pale and nervous.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.

The course of questioning adopted by David R. Joslyn for the state led the witness over a route which more than once caused him to correct his testimony. For the most part, the testimony was of an embarrassing nature. Orpet's cross-examination probably will continue throughout Thursday.